

Trelawny Bell

As a lifelong North Vancouver resident, Trey has grown up immersed in the outdoors and being active. As both a PCSS and NVRC staff member and volunteer for 18 years Trey has seen how important Parkgate is to this community, and how many people are connected through the programs it offers. Trey's work experience at Parkgate Community Centre included working in school age care programs, Summer Camps, and the Youth Centre as well as in with NVRC sports programs and volunteering in the weight room. Trey holds a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from Acadia University, specializing in International Relations and also has a Public Relations Certificate from BCIT. For the past 10 years, Trey has worked as a Senior Manager at a local childcare company called Bee Haven, where he manages six locations including school age care programs, school break camps, and marketing activities. He is passionate about sports, music, nature, and travelling. Trey currently plays floor hockey, tennis, golf, baseball and loves to ski. His appreciation for the outdoors, experiencing the natural world, and travelling has led him to the Amazon Jungle, Machu Picchu, Angkor Wat, surfing in Costa Rica, and recently trekking to the 3rd largest cave in the world in Vietnam.
