

Andrew Szymanski

Andrew and his wife have raised three beautiful children in the Seymour area since 2003. The quality of the services provided by Parkgate Society and supporting organizations makes this a special community to live in.

Andrew's working career is in project management. Working on programs and projects across Canada, the U.S.A. and Asia with diverse groups of people and cultures has provided Andrew with the experience that there are many ways to address and resolve problems. Andrew brings experience in project management, risk management and strategic planning to the Board.

You'll often see Andrew hiking the North Shore mountains or kayaking in Indian Arm. If you do, feel free to stop him and ask how you can help contribute to making our community even stronger.
